

Connection Schematics for Resistivity Measurement

(van der Pauw method)

(view from the sample side)

The number corresponds to the probe position while the color indicates the wire that connects the probe. This scheme is for the low temperature set up.